Spring Term 2026 Edition

Teaching and Learning:

New beginnings for the Spring Term

The start of the spring term marks an important moment of renewal and reflection. It is a time to reset routines, refocus ambitions and build positively on the learning already secured this year. At The Roseland, we use this new beginning to reaffirm our commitment to a challenging, knowledge-rich curriculum that supports every student to achieve their full potential.

High expectations sit at the heart of our approach to teaching and learning. We believe that all students, regardless of starting point, deserve access to ambitious subject content that stretches their thinking and deepens their understanding. Our curriculum is carefully sequenced (set out in a Learning journey for every subject) so that new knowledge builds logically on what has come before, helping students to make meaningful connections and retain learning over time.

A key feature of classroom learning across The Roseland is the use of bespoke subject booklets. These booklets bring together carefully selected curriculum content, key explanations, reading and tasks in one place. Rather than switching between textbooks, worksheets and exercise books, students work directly in their booklets, allowing them to focus fully on learning by reducing cognitive load.

Booklets are highly effective because they support consistency and challenge. Teachers use them to model high-quality responses under visualisers, guide students through complex ideas and provide structured opportunities for practice. Students can see how their learning develops over a sequence of lessons, making it easier to revisit prior knowledge and build confidence. Importantly, booklets ensure that our students are engaging with the same high-quality material, while teachers adapt their questioning and support to meet individual needs.

As we embark on the spring term, students are encouraged to approach their learning with a renewed sense of purpose. Teachers are reinforcing clear routines and positive learning behaviours so that lessons remain calm, focused and productive. Mistakes and misconceptions are valued as part of the learning process and students are supported to reflect on feedback and take responsibility for improving their work.

We are proud of the commitment our students show each day and grateful for the continued support of parents and carers. By working together and embracing the opportunities of this new term, we can ensure that all students make strong progress and continue to grow as confident, capable learners.

Wellbeing and Belonging

Attendance at School

Thank you to parents and carers for your continued support in helping us maintain attendance above the national average last term. Regular school attendance is essential for students' learning, wellbeing and long-term success. Every lesson builds on the last, and even short or repeated absences can quickly create gaps in understanding that are difficult to close. Being in school every day also supports strong routines, positive relationships and a sense of belonging, all of which help students to feel confident and ready to learn.

POOR SLEEP HABITS

Sixty-eight percent of teens bring their devices to bed, and nearly a third fall asleep with their phones. Thirty six percent of teens wake up and check their mobile device at least once a night for a reason other than checking the time.

Sleep routines

We encourage families to aim for consistent bedtimes and wake-up times throughout the school week, as regular routines support healthy sleep patterns. Avoiding screens for at least an hour before bedtime can also help students settle more easily and get the rest they need to be ready for learning the next day.

Screen time

We encourage regular conversations with your child about their online activity, clear boundaries around screen time and privacy, and the use of parental controls on devices and apps. Reminding students to think carefully about what they share and to speak to a trusted adult if they feel uncomfortable helps to build safe and responsible online habits. responsible online habits.

SIX TO NINE HOURS PER DAY!

School-age children spend more time with screens – television, video games, computers, tablets and phones – than any other activity but sleeping. That adds up to 114 full days of screen time each year.

MENTAL HEALTH IMPACTS

Kids who log more screen time experience lower psychological well-being. Among kids 14-17, high users of screens were more than twice as likely to have been diagnosed with depression or anxiety and have a higher rate of obsessive-compulsive disorder diagnoses.

Mental health

If you have any concerns about sleep, screen use or anxiety, please contact your child's tutor in the first instance so that we can work together to support them. Thank you for your continued support. Together, we will ensure every student feels safe, supported and ambitious on their Roseland journey and beyond!

Tutor Reading in Year 7

The Roseland Tutor Reading Programme

We believe reading should be enjoyable and firmly embedded in the daily life of our school. We read together because it matters and it makes a difference. As part of our commitment to developing confident, lifelong readers, all tutor groups take part in Tutor Reading during tutor time. This year is the National Year of Reading, and we believe reading is a vital skill that supports learning across every subject, as well as wellbeing, imagination and communication beyond school.

During Tutor Reading, pupils read one of a rotation of five carefully chosen books together as a group. Either the tutor reads aloud or pupils listen to a high-quality audiobook, while everyone follows along with the text. This shared approach ensures that all pupils can access and enjoy the story, regardless of reading confidence, and helps build a positive, inclusive reading culture.

Research shows that hearing fluent reading aloud improves vocabulary, comprehension and reading stamina. Tutor Reading also encourages discussion, develops listening skills and allows pupils to experience books they might not otherwise choose to read independently.

If you would like to read the book that your child is reading in tutor time, please ask them which book they are reading from the selection below.

Support reading from home

Reading for just 20 minutes every day builds vocabulary, improves understanding and strengthens concentration. It supports success across all subjects, boosts confidence and reduces stress. A short daily reading habit at home makes a significant difference to academic progress, wellbeing and long-term life chances.
